Jack, he left the Rocky Mountains
And he rides down to town
Just to find a good woman
And to take her home
... to take her home up the mountain - he comes from

Oh the town it was a mining town
And it took all miners lives Made a grave out of the mine and Widowed all them wives
... all them wives
eighty-four widows left alive

Eighty-four good women
Waitin' for a man Circling around ol' Jack - wooing him the best they can
... and they can
Jack makes out - he's the only man

Eighty-four good women
Making eyes at Jack Chattering around his head
Makin' him look back
...he turns back into the night - only Jack

(The) whole way up on the mountain
He can hear from behind
Eighty-four good women
Cryin' out their eyes
... n' he rides on to stay alone where he came from

Somewhere in the Rocky Mountains lucky lonesome ol' Jack he's dreaming of one woman
But he never did come back
... to he town
no - he never came back down.
